

• As-May' Choral Day

Friday May 21st 2010

8:45 - 3:30 with

BONUS SESSION, 3:45 - 5:00

Guest presenter

ALETA KING

Aleta King is a passionate and experienced musicianship educator and choral director, currently lecturing in Aural Musicianship at the School of Music, University of Queensland. She has previously been a lecturer in aural studies at the University of Melbourne, lecturer and tutor in Aural Musicianship and Choral Conducting at the University of Queensland and a regular presenter at the Brisbane Summer Music Programme. Aleta was accompanist for the Queensland Conservatorium Chorus, has worked closely with the Australian Boys Choir and is the musical director for the Brisbane based community choir, Choral Connection. Aleta is an elected National Council member for the Kodaly Music Education Institute Australia (KMEIA) and is an alternate auditor for the International Kodaly Society. As an experienced church musician, Aleta has been musical director for the acclaimed London Adventist Chorale and since returning to Australia has been closely associated with the Seventh Day Adventist Institute of Worship as a performer, educator, composer and arranger throughout Australia, New Zealand and the South Pacific Islands. Aleta is founding musical director of Brisbane Adventist Voices.

Suitable for teachers of primary, secondary and community choirs, ASME's highly acclaimed "As-May" Choral Day is offered again in 2010, with ideas and material to help you develop skills in conducting and managing a choir.
